Belfast Deep River Rock Half Marathon

Event Date: Sunday, 22 September 2013

On Sunday 22nd September, Sorrymate.com founder and owner, Fergus Dalgarno will be running a half marathon at Belfast's Deep River Rock event. he will be running the 21 kilometres in aid of two charities, The Joey Dunlop Foundation and the North West Air Ambulance.

It is simply wrong that neither of these charities are government funded. The North West Air Ambulance saves hundreds of lives each year and is effectively part of the NHS. The Joey Dunlop Foundation opens up the Isle of Man to disabled fans, not only of racing but those who want to visit the island for holidays generally. Both charities need all the support they can get so please help support these great charities as they help support our biking community and the wider community as well. Whatever you can give is greatly appreciated.
